

»» How will you pay for your education?

»» Alberta Students Finance can help you reach your education goals

Government student funding helps eligible post-secondary students cover their basic learning and living costs while in school. We provide interest-free student loans while you're in school and low, affordable interest rates when you start to repay your loan(s). You may also be eligible to receive federal and/or provincial grants that don't need to be repaid.

The Students Finance section on the ALIS website is your gateway to finding out more about how to access student financial aid. Visit alis.alberta.ca/studentsfinance.

»» Apply early...apply online

Apply online for student funding and you may even see your results immediately.

It's quick and easy to use. Submit only one application to be considered for both federal and provincial student loans and grants.

»» It's your future

Most post-secondary students use a variety of sources to cover their living and learning costs while in school. These sources include family support, earnings from part-time and summer jobs, scholarships, and government student funding. What's your plan for the investment in your future? Get the facts and make sure your student funding plan suits your needs by talking to your parents, a financial or school advisor or by visiting alis.alberta.ca.
