

Interest Free Status for a person on Parental Leave (Alberta Student Loans only)

A student who takes a break from full-time studies for parental leave may apply for interest free status on their Alberta Student Loan(s). The interest free status begins on the last day of attendance at school and lasts up to a maximum of 12 months from that date.

Who is eligible?

You are eligible when you cease to be a full-time student in order to give birth to, care for or support a child who is a new addition to the family by reason of a Qualifying Event (see chart below), and you intend to return to full-time studies. The Qualifying Event must have happened within 12 months of when you ceased to be a full-time student.

For which loans can I get interest free status?

This only applies to your Alberta Student Loan(s). You will still be required to make payments on your Canada Student Loan(s) and any other loans issued by another province. If you are having trouble making payments on your Canada Student Loan(s), contact the National Student Loans Service Centre and/or your lending institution about Repayment Assistance or Revision of Terms. You can create a Repayment Assistance application and Revision of Terms request online using NSLSC On-Line Services at canlearn.ca.

What do you have to do?

- Print off a copy of the Application for Interest Free Status for a person on Parental Leave.
- Complete the application and follow the instructions on the application to submit to EDULINX and/or your other student loan lenders.
