

Resources for Apprenticeship

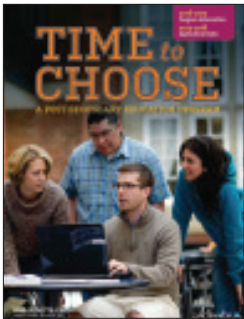

CAREER PLANNING

EDUCATION

JOBS

Download or Order Publications Online

Time to Choose... a Post-Secondary Education Program

Time to Choose has up-to-date details about post-secondary programs, schools, application deadlines, student funding, transfer credits and more. A comprehensive programs chart lists which post-secondary schools offer trades and industrial training.

Trades in Alberta

This easy-to-read publication helps readers explore diverse trade options such as welding, mechanics, hairstyling, carpentry and cooking. Trades in Alberta helps readers understand what a trade is and how to get started. Exercises and more help can be found in the companion teaching notes.

Alberta Apprenticeship and Industry Training

On tradesecrets.alberta.ca, Alberta's official source for designated trades and occupations, you can find information on financial assistance, learning on the job and RAP, the Registered Apprenticeship Program for high school students. Experienced workers can find information here too.

Click Contact Us on the homepage and then AIT Offices on the next screen to find a Client Service Office near you. Call 780-427-8517 in Edmonton or toll-free elsewhere in Alberta with 310-0000 followed by the number you are calling.

Women in Non-Traditional Occupations: Stories to Inspire

This online publication tells the stories of seven Alberta women who work in non-traditional professions, trades and industries. Get some inspiration from these Alberta women who took a non-traditional path in their career.

alis.alberta.ca/publications

alis.alberta.ca
CAREER PLANNING • EDUCATION • JOBS
» Make the most of your future

Alberta
Government

Alberta Learning Information Service (ALIS)

Want to be an apprentice? Are you a journey person moving to Alberta? There's great information and resources on apprenticeship in Alberta, training programs and labour mobility at alis.alberta.ca/apprenticeship.

Find facts and tips about more than 550 occupations on ALIS's OCCinfo. Every profile includes education and, where applicable, certification requirements, employment and advancement outlook and wage and salary ranges. Learn about typical working conditions and the personal characteristics that will help you succeed in that occupation. Many profiles include videos, and search filters will help you find apprenticeship and designated occupations. Visit OCCinfo at alis.alberta.ca/occinfo.

At alis.alberta.ca/psvideos click on Campus Alberta Student Reflections for videos about two apprentices. Adam's going to be an electric motor systems technician, and Kayla is a welding apprentice. Spencer's video at alis.alberta.ca/youthreflections is about training to be a machinist.

Registered Apprenticeship Program Brochure

High school students can learn the skills of a trade while they're still in school! This brochure provides information about the Registered Apprenticeship Program (RAP). Includes a small-scale version of the Trades List poster.

Visit alis.alberta.ca/publications to order this brochure.

Apprenticeship and Industry Training Brochure

How do you become an apprentice? This brochure provides information about Alberta apprenticeship and industry training programs. Includes a small-scale version of the Trades List poster.

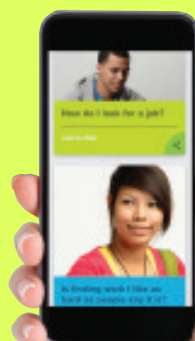

Visit alis.alberta.ca/publications to order this brochure.

Trades List Poster

Do you know how many designated trades Alberta has? It's around 50. Check out this poster for descriptions, program lengths, compulsory certification information and Red Seal availability.

Visit alis.alberta.ca/publications to order this poster.

MY WORK QUEST

If you are graduating from school, getting into a trade or have questions about your future, MyWorkQuest can help get you to where you want to be. Get answers to your questions, learn what you need to know about apprenticeship and receive trusted career advice at